

EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES POLICY¹

1. Overview

1.1 This policy covers all aspects of how you are treated by the Network and its staff and volunteers. It covers (but is not limited) to:

- recruitment
- pay and conditions of employment
- training and continuing professional development
- promotion
- appraisals
- grievances and disciplinary matters
- ending employment
- giving references
- how visitors are treated
- how clients and suppliers are treated
- how any other business contacts and associates are treated.

1.2 This policy applies to all employees and volunteers.

1.3 If you are an employee, this policy does not form part of your contract of employment and we may amend it at any time.

1.4 You should read this policy in conjunction with other policies including Harassment and Bullying, Recruitment, and Grievance policies.

2. Our equal opportunities commitment and aims

2.1 The Network is committed to promoting equal opportunities in employment. You and any job applicants will receive equal treatment regardless of age, disability, gender reassignment, marital or civil partner status, pregnancy or maternity, race, colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation (Protected Characteristics), unless such treatment is incompatible with our Statement of Faith.

2.2 The Network may be entitled to rely on various occupational requirement exemptions, as set out in the Equality Act 2010.

¹ The Christ Church Network is the operating name of the Newland Christian Trust: a Christian charity (1101648) and Limited Company (04976143)

2.3 The Operations Manager has operational responsibility for this policy and any necessary training on equal opportunities.

3. Discrimination

3.1 You must not unlawfully discriminate against or harass other people including current and former employees, job applicants, clients, customers, volunteers, suppliers and visitors. This applies in the workplace, outside the workplace and on work-related trips or events including social events.

3.2 The following forms of discrimination are prohibited under this policy and are unlawful:

(a) Direct discrimination: treating someone less favourably because of a Protected Characteristic. For example, rejecting a job applicant because of their nationality.

(b) Indirect discrimination: a provision, criterion or practice that applies to everyone but adversely affects people with a particular Protected Characteristic more than others and is not justified. For example, requiring a job to be done full-time rather than part-time would adversely affect women because they generally have greater childcare commitments than men. Such a requirement would be discriminatory unless it can be justified.

(c) Harassment: this includes sexual harassment and other unwanted conduct related to a Protected Characteristic, which has the purpose or effect of violating someone's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for them. Harassment is dealt with further in our Harassment and Bullying Policy.

(d) Victimisation: retaliation against someone who has complained or has supported someone else's complaint about discrimination or harassment.

(e) Disability discrimination: this includes direct and indirect discrimination, any unjustified less favourable treatment because of the effects of a disability, and failure to make reasonable adjustments to alleviate disadvantages caused by a disability.

4. Recruitment and selection

4.1 Recruitment, promotion and other selection exercises such as redundancy selection will be conducted on the basis of merit, against objective criteria that avoid discrimination (unless an occupational requirement exemption applies). Shortlisting should be done by more than one person if possible.

4.2 Job applicants should not be asked questions which might suggest an intention to discriminate on grounds of a Protected Characteristic. For example, applicants should not be asked whether they are pregnant or planning to have children.

4.3 Job applicants should not be asked about health or disability before a job offer is made, except in the very limited circumstances allowed by law: for example, to check that the applicant could perform an intrinsic part of the job (taking account of any reasonable adjustments), or to see if any adjustments might be needed at interview because of a disability. Where necessary, job offers can be made conditional on a satisfactory medical check. Health or disability questions may be included in equal opportunities monitoring forms, which must not be used for selection or decision-making purposes.

5. Disabilities

- 5.1 If you are disabled or become disabled, we encourage you to tell us so that we can consider what reasonable adjustments or support may be appropriate.

6. Part-time and fixed-term work

- 6.1 Part-time and fixed-term employees should be treated the same as comparable full-time or permanent employees and enjoy no less favourable terms and conditions (on a pro-rata basis where appropriate) unless different treatment is justified.

7. Breaches of this policy

- 7.1 We take a strict approach to breaches of this policy, which, in the case of employees, will be dealt with in accordance with our Disciplinary Procedure. Serious cases of deliberate discrimination may amount to gross misconduct resulting in dismissal.
- 7.2 If you believe that you have suffered discrimination you can raise the matter through our Grievance Policy or Harassment and Bullying Policy. Complaints will be treated in confidence and investigated as appropriate.
- 7.3 You must not be victimised or retaliated against for complaining about discrimination. However, making a false allegation deliberately and in bad faith will be treated as misconduct and dealt with under our Disciplinary Procedure.
